

ABSTRACT

[0051] An arithmetic logic unit (140) improves the processing of information. The arithmetic logic unit (140) includes a register unit (250), a ternary content addressable memory (260), and an operations unit (270).